16th October, 6:30PM FREE EVENT DAY England New England Author Jeff Romano 20 South Main Street, West Hartford Join author Jeff Romano for a presentation showcasing day hiking opportunities the region's hest hiking destinations the region's hest hiking destinations. Join author Jeff Romano for a presentation showcasing day hiking destinations, throughout New England. Jeff will discuss the region's on how and where to have share advice provide insights and answer questions on how and where the share advice provide insights and answer questions. throughout New England. Jeff will discuss the region's best hiking destinations, and where to plan share advice, provide insights, and answer questions include information will also include information will also include information will also include information will also include information. share advice, provide insights, and answer questions on now and where to play and answer questions on now and white information on the presentation will also include information of the presentation will also include information of the presentation will also include information of the presentation will be presented in the presentation will be presented in the presentation will be presented in the presentation of the presentation will be presented in the presentation will be presented in the presentation of the presentation will be presented in the presentation will be presented in the presentation of the presentation will be presented in the presentation of the presentation will be presented in the presentation of the presentation of the presentation will be presented in the presentation of the presentatio New England wildflowers, birds and other wildlife. Register at: www.westhartfordlibrary.org